

THE HELSINKI TERM BANK FOR THE ARTS AND SCIENCES (HTB) – CONNECTING PEOPLE, DISCOURSES AND DISCIPLINES

Dr Johanna Enqvist

HELSINKI CENTRE FOR DIGITAL HUMANITIES/
HELDIG DIGITAL HUMANITIES SUMMIT 2018
University of Helsinki 23.10. 2018

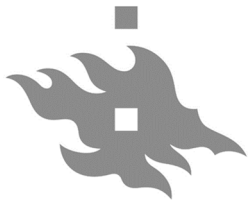

FIN-CLARIN

ACADEMY OF FINLAND

UNIVERSITY OF HELSINKI

ALFRED KORDELININ
SÄÄTIÖ

- The Helsinki Term Bank for the Arts and Sciences (HTB): an open access terminological database and multidisciplinary collaborative platform <<http://tieteentermipankki.fi/>>
- Funded by the Academy of Finland (2011–2015), Alfred Kordelin Foundation (2018) and University of Helsinki, cooperation with FIN-CLARIN
- Content is created by niche-sourcing = by groups of experts in the participating subject fields.

- At the moment: over 40 subject fields, over 40 000 concept pages and 300 000 terms/lemmas, around 20 000 weekly visits.

Users

528K

↑16.6%

vs last year

Sessions

827K

↑21.8%

Bounce Rate

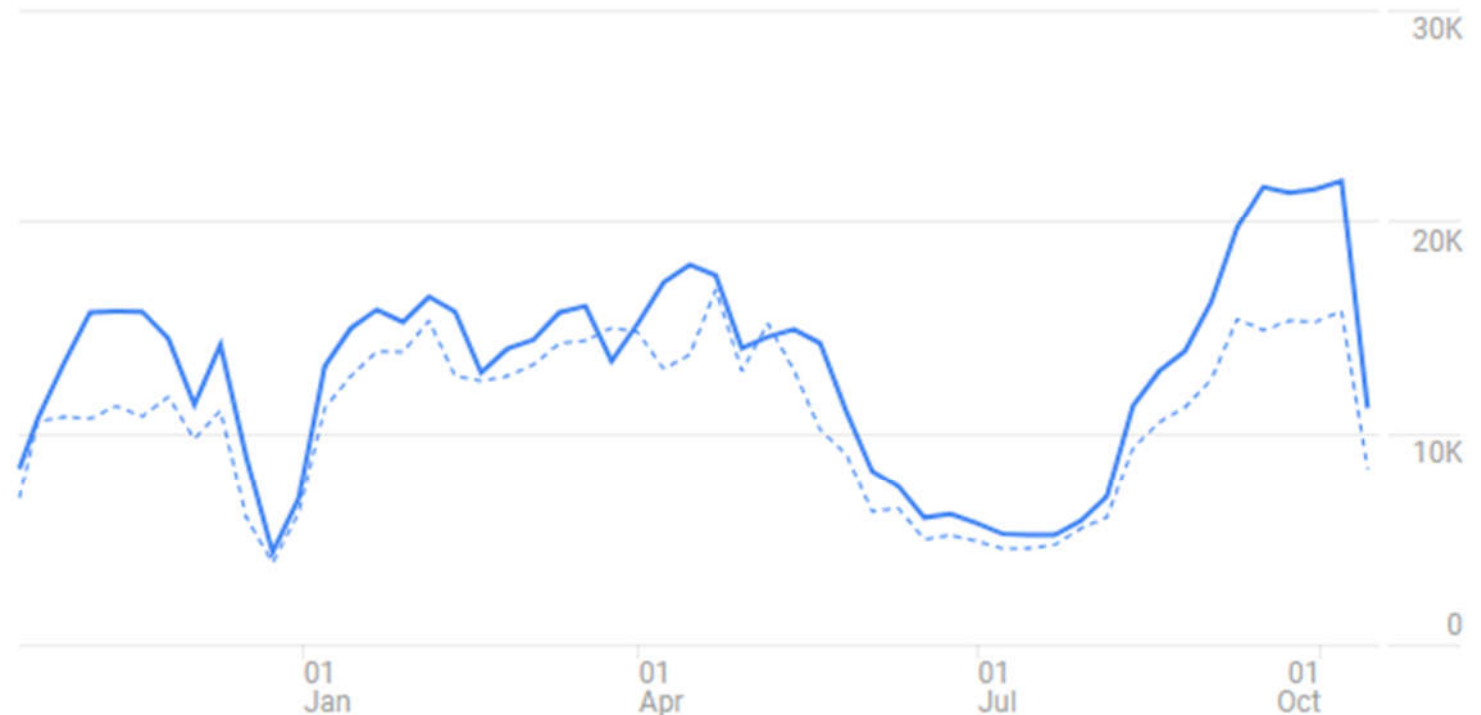

69.53%

↑1.7%

Session Duration

1m 43s

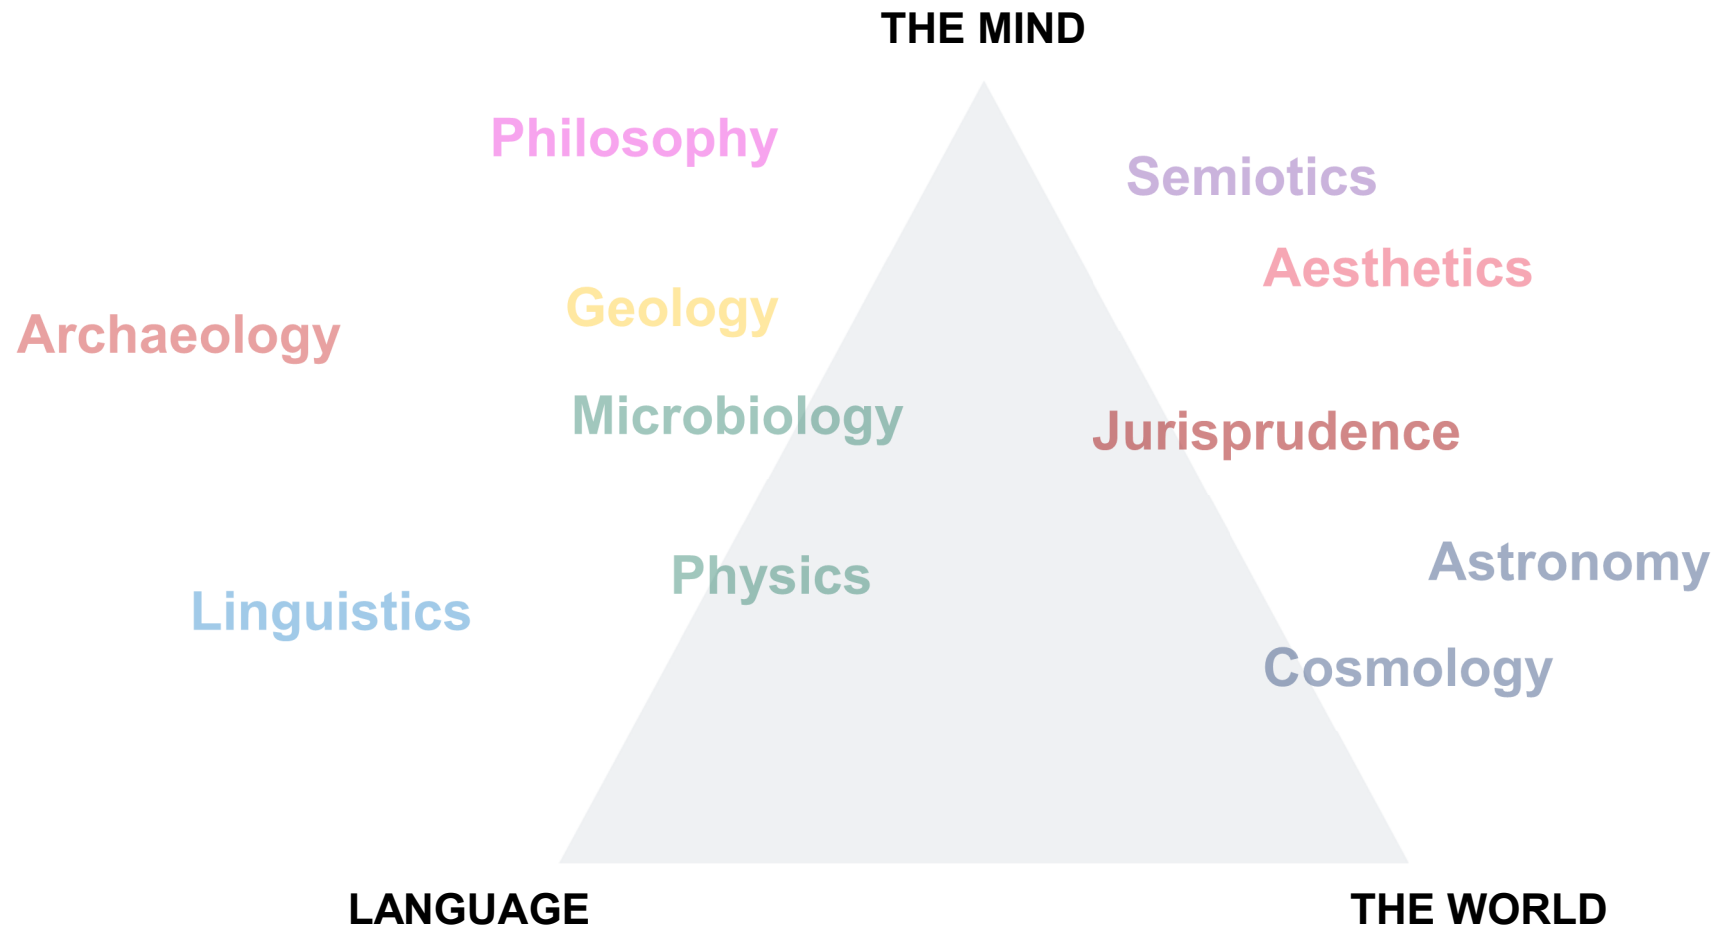

↑0.3%

Users
Oct 2017 – Oct 2018

- Analysis and representation of knowledge concentrated in concepts – units of understanding

WHY PARTICIPATE IN THE HTB?

- Enhancing understanding of particular field of research and the connections between the disciplines
- Improving communication and preventing misunderstandings
- Implementing open science
- Promoting parallel use of languages
- Advancing and supporting the status of national and minority languages of Finland.

→ SERVING THE SOCIETY

HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN THE HTB?

Check the HTB: is your field of research already included?

YES

Contact the coordinator of your field and become a member of the expert group.

NO

Contact the HTB and become a coordinator of the expert group in your field:

tieteentermipankki-info@helsinki.fi

